

Nonprofit Vancouver center offers free information on how to buy a home

Vancouver's nonprofit Community Housing Resource Center will offer a free orientation on Jan. 16, 6 to 7 p.m.

The orientation will provide information about the center's services, which include home-purchase counseling, credit repair, debt management and homebuyer education, as well as dispel myths about buying a home.

The Community Housing Resource Center is at 2700 N.E. Andresen Road, Suite D3. For more information, contact Kevin Gillette at kevin@homecen.org or 360-690-4496, ext. 101.

PEOPLE

• Oregon First added brokers

Realtor Notes

Darren Rigby and Rajesh Mehra, Washington Square; Adam Pierce, Sellwood; and Malynida Mason, Tanasbourne.

• Broker Pamela Huey joined Windermere/Crofton & Caplan Realty Group, Lloyd Tower.

• Keller Williams Realty

added brokers Kellie Mann, Heather Mohr, John Hauser, Lynne Gomez, Christian DelBosque, Roger Paul, Robb Karsay, Andre Pachol, Ruth Velez and Keren Cutler, Lake Oswego/Southwest Portland.

• Realty Trust Group added brokers Michael Shaheen, Lake Oswego; Chris Suarez, Pearl District; and Noah Miller, Hollywood.

• Broker Maffie Donahue joined Chris Balmas Properties, Tualatin.

COMMUNITY

• For the past two years, Craig Reger, a broker with The Hasson Co. Realtors, Portland West, has donated a portion of the proceeds from each of his closings to Habitat for Humanity donations by the Group were enough to sponsor a home for a family. Members also volunteered with Habitat.

By Jim Hines, a Realtor. He is a member of the Oregon Real Estate Board, 500 Broadway, Portland 97201. Opinions and analyses are subject to approval by the author. For more information, contact him at 503-251-1111.